Bernard Connor Medal

The Irish Society for Rheumatology (ISR) has established the Bernard Connor Medal to promote interest in the field of rheumatology among BST/IMT trainees in medicine, and to support engagement with the Irish Society for Rheumatology.

The award is open to trainees in medicine who fulfil the eligibility criteria below. In addition to receiving the Connor Medal, the winner will be invited to attend the annual scientific meeting of the ISR to present their work to the membership, as a guest of the society. A prize of €250 in addition to overnight accommodation will be awarded to the successful candidate. Additionally, and at the discretion of the judging panel, up to two runners-up may be awarded additional prizes.

Bernard Connor

The Connor Medal is named in honour of Bernard Connor, an Irish physician who observed and described the characteristic skeletal and clinical features of ankylosing spondylitis in 1693, while a medical student in Paris. This award will be made annually on the basis of competitive submission.

Theme

The theme chosen by the ISR is a Case Report with relevance to rheumatology. The submitted work should highlight your observations/insight in relation to rheumatology as a BST trainee.

Submission Only one submission per trainee will be accepted.

Case Report

The case report should be submitted in full form and present the details of an interesting case followed by a discussion on your observations of the key points of interest, and relevant literature review. These should be submitted in full [max 800 words, concluding with summary key message and references (up to 5 in total)].
